{ FULL STACK SOFTWARE ENGINEER }

& Frontend Specialist

Nice to meet you! I'm Fett. Yep, exactly like my cousins Boba and Jango!

I'm a self-taught problem-solver and a passionate Full Stack Software Engineer. I became a Frontend Specialist to help companies achieve beautiful hi-fidelity interfaces and stunning user experiences.

I'm always eager to master new challenges and sharpen my abilities in order to deliver value. I believe that collaboration is the key to fulfilling business goals, so I dedicate myself to keeping my team's vibe positive, no matter how many jokes it takes!

Don't be fooled by my charming smile. I am ready to get my hands dirty on dreadful legacy code and lead teams down the path of success. I'm an open communicator and will craft the best plan to accomplish the most challenging deliverables.

On the road so far, I've provided mentorship for new devs, joined multidisciplinary teams and built some products from scratch, from component libraries and design systems to whole platforms. Targeted changes I lead helped to achieve a 250% growth rate of user subscriptions over a 30 day period. Moreover, the growth rate has increased by 1000% setting the business on an entirely new trajectory.

My process, in short, is to understand, simplify and deliver quality.

Hoping to hear from you soon.

Cheers!
